

Who's for Donald Trump as Republican candidate?

NO

Senator Lindsey Graham of South Carolina

"I just really believe that the Republican Party has been conned here, and this guy is not a reliable conservative."

NOT YET

Speaker of the House of Representatives Paul Ryan

"Not ready" to endorse Mr Trump. He believes it is up to Mr Trump to prove that he shares the party's values.

MAYBE

Senator Kelly Ayotte of New Hampshire

Facing a tough re-election campaign of her own, she echoes other lawmakers with an ambiguous position that she would "support the nominee" but "not endorse anyone".

FINE

Senate Majority Leader
Mitch McConnell

Hoping to retain Republican control of the Senate, he says that "I have committed to supporting the nominee chosen by Republican voters, and Donald Trump, the presumptive nominee, is now on the verge of clinching the nomination".

YES

Senator Jeff Sessions of Alabama

Known for his tough stance on immigration, he has been advising Mr Trump on policy and has said he would consider being his vice-presidential running mate.

OH YES!

Former Alaska governor and former Republican vice-presidential candidate
Sarah Palin

She says she will campaign against Mr Paul Ryan because he refused to fall in behind Mr Trump, and says she is open to becoming Mr Trump's vice-presidential running mate.
