

Duterte's team

Philippine President-elect Rodrigo Duterte has named a Cabinet made up of close friends, former classmates, leftists and academics. His choices of economic managers have won praise, and Mr Duterte describes them all as "men of integrity and honesty".

Mr Carlos Dominguez, Finance
He was former president Corazon Aquino's agriculture minister. He used to be chief executive of flag carrier Philippine Airlines. A childhood friend of Mr Duterte's, he owns one of Davao city's biggest hotels.

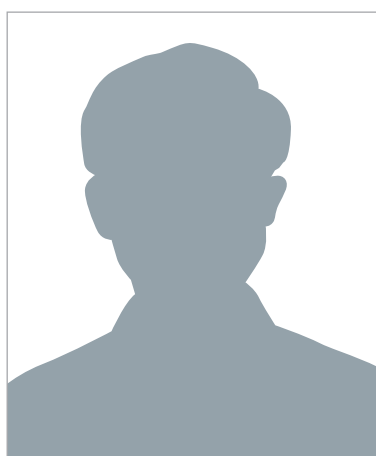

Mr Alfonso Cusi, Energy
A technocrat, he headed the Manila International Airport Authority, Philippine Ports Authority, and Civil Aviation Authority of the Philippines under former president Gloria Arroyo.

Mr Benjamin Diokno, Budget
An economist, he was budget minister under former president Joseph Estrada.

Mr Arthur Tugade, Transportation and Communication
A classmate of Mr Duterte's in law school, Mr Tugade was head of Clark Development Corp.

Mr Delfin Lorenzana, Defence
A retired major-general, he led the Army Special Operations unit. He served as military attache to Washington, and was appointed by former president Gloria Arroyo to represent Filipino veterans pressing for compensation from the US.

Ms Leonor Briones, Education
She was national treasurer under former president Joseph Estrada. She is a professor emerita at state-run University of the Philippines (UP).

Mr Silvestre Bello, Labour
He was justice minister under former presidents Corazon Aquino and Fidel Ramos.

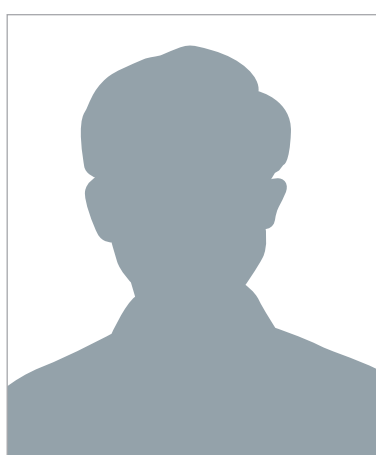

Ms Judy Taguiwalo, Social Welfare
A political prisoner under the Marcos regime, she is a women's rights advocate and currently a UP professor. She was in a list submitted by Mr Duterte's communist allies.

Mr Mark Villar, Public Works and Highways
He is a congressman. His family owns the Philippines' biggest mass housing developer.

Mr Rafael Mariano, Agrarian Reform
Mr Mariano is a nominee of the National Democratic Front, a left-wing group of communist cadres. He is the head of a militant farmers' group that has been pressing for an overhaul of the country's agrarian reform programme.

Mr Ernesto Pernia, Economic Planning
A graduate of the University of California, Berkeley, he is a professor emeritus at the UP School of Economics. He had been lead economist at the Asian Development Bank.

Mr Perfecto Yasay, Foreign
The former head of the Securities and Exchange Commission, his testimony on a massive stock scandal helped build a case that led to the impeachment of former president Joseph Estrada.
