

Maritime claims in South-east Asia

Last week's landmark ruling by the Arbitral Tribunal at The Hague could provide a helpful template for resolving disputes among South-east Asia's own littoral states. Several Asean countries have overlapping maritime claims.

Sources: ASIA MARITIME TRANSPARENCY INITIATIVE/CENTRE FOR STRATEGIC AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES, MALAYSIA-THAILAND JOINT AUTHORITY STRAITS TIMES GRAPHICS