

Gleedman's TAKE ON...

Overcoming a restriction on public transport

To prevent them from blocking passengers, foldable bicycles are not allowed on trains during peak hours...

...so how did you manage to break the rule without getting stopped?

By hiding it in a pram that's larger than the bicycle.

