

Choy's TAKE

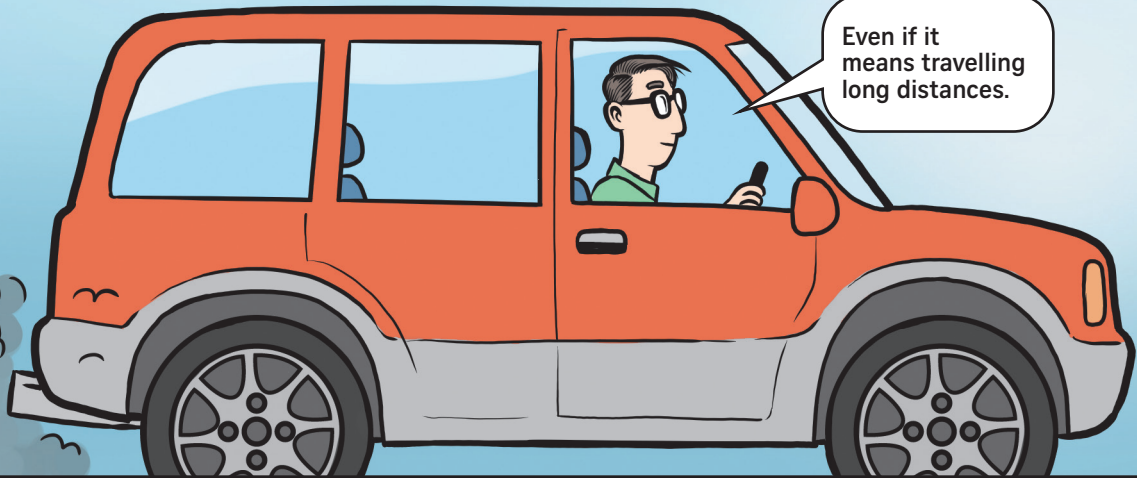

In the near future...

There are now several solar-powered hawker centres in Singapore.

To do my small part for the environment, I now eat only at those locations.

Even if it means travelling long distances.