

The world's second-biggest data leak

"The Paradise Papers" refers to a leak of 13.4 million financial documents that were acquired by the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists. The files cover the period from 1950 to 2016, and have information that shows US$60 million ($82 million) shifted to offshore tax havens.

