

What would best represent Singapore on Unesco's Intangible Cultural Heritage Representative List?

CHICKEN RICE

The dish is so common, it can be found in hawker centres, foodcourts and even restaurants. Even foreigners come here looking to try the dish.

MADAM LILY CHUA, 75, retiree

FOLK TALE OF SANG NILA UTAMA

Such tales are unique to Singapore and have been passed on from generation to generation. It is important that we document them for future generations.

MR WILLIAM TAN, 59,
self-employed

TRADITIONAL COFFEE POWDER GRINDING

Old-school trades are fast disappearing. It is about time we remember our pioneers, who played a part in Singapore's early years.

MR JONATHAN PEREIRA, 26, sales executive

ROJAK

Besides capturing our reputation as a foodie nation, the mixed ingredients reflect Singapore's ability to bring together different cultures.

MR LUCAS WONG, 43,
senior marketing manager

DIKIR BARAT

The performing arts capture our diverse cultural expressions, and can offer an avenue for young Singaporeans to appreciate the different communities.

MR SHAFFIQ AHMAD, 31, consultant