

Parliament in numbers

2

Number of Bills passed

43mins

Length of speech by Second Minister for Home Affairs Josephine Teo in the second reading of the Public Order and Safety (Special Powers) Bill.

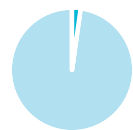

10

Number of MPs who spoke on the Public Order and Safety (Special Powers) Bill.

2 years' jail & $20,000 fine

The maximum penalty one can get for breaching a communications stop order put in place during a serious public order incident.

2.3%

The annual proportion of Primary 6 pupils exempted from taking mother tongue in school due to special educational needs since 2015.

92%

The proportion of respondents to a 2015 Law Ministry survey who said they had trust and confidence in the legal system.

More than 20 million

The number of visits to the cinemas clocked by Singaporeans every year, one of the highest per-capita cinema attendance rates in the world.

21

Up from 15 previously, this is the maximum number of members allowed in the Films Appeal Committee, which hears appeals on films classifications unless they concern national security.