

Easing congestion

Indonesia's first mass rapid transit (MRT) rail system has 13 stations over the initial 15.7km route that will open in Jakarta in March. It will be able to transport at least 170,000 passengers a day.

