

A continental buffet

Diversification is one of the three key strategies that Singapore is pursuing to enhance food security. It enables the Republic, which imports over 90 per cent of its food, to tap other sources when traditional sources are disrupted. Timothy Goh takes a look at where your next meal might be coming from.

In 2018, we imported food from more than 180 countries worldwide.

NOTE:
 - This list is non-exhaustive.
 - Singapore's other sources of rice includes Bangladesh, Bhutan, Canada, Cambodia, the European Union, Japan, South Korea, Myanmar, Pakistan, the Philippines, Russia, Sri Lanka and Turkey.

NOTE: Percentages may not add up due to rounding off.
