

Latest cases and measures in Singapore

FIRST LOCAL TRANSMISSIONS

- Yong Thai Hang (left), a Chinese health products shop in Cavan Road in Lavender, is at the heart of Singapore's first cases of local coronavirus transmission.
- Two women working at the shop, which caters to Chinese tour groups, were infected. The third is a maid of one of the women, while the fourth is a tour guide who had taken groups to the shop.
- Two more Singapore residents who were evacuated from Wuhan were confirmed to have the coronavirus yesterday, bringing the total here to 24.

MORE MEASURES TO CONTAIN VIRUS

- Staggered recess time at schools from today. Assemblies will also be suspended.
- No communal and large group activities at pre-schools.
- Eldercare facilities to suspend excursions and large-scale gatherings.
- Firms to increase frequency of cleaning, especially at food and beverage outlets, shops and hotels, where traffic is high.
- Testing on everyone who has pneumonia in public hospitals.
