

How one person infected many

A single person who contracted Covid-19 infected 15 others in Chicago. Here's a look at how the virus spreads through communities.

