Open to all age groups

Here's a fun way to help you and your family get through this circuit breaker period to fight Covid-19.

- This is a 7-day colouring challenge.
- Every day, from April 20 to April 26 (both dates inclusive), one drawing will appear in the Life section of The Straits Times.
- Colour the drawings any way you like. You can use pencils, paints, crayons and so on. Be creative! You may even want to decorate it with glitter, sequins, buttons and other materials.
- The contest is open to both young and old. There is no age limit.
- You may do this challenge alone or as a family.
- To qualify, you need to colour and submit all 7 artworks together at the end of the challenge. Individual artworks will not be accepted.
- You may submit as many sets of 7 artworks as you like. But each must be a complete set of 7.
- We are looking for creativity, colour composition, attention to detail and presentation.
- The colouring must be done on the actual newspaper page of the Life section. Photocopies of the artwork will not be accepted.
- To submit the 7 artworks, take photos of all 7 finished works.
- Photos can show a single artwork or you can group them.
- Maximum file upload size is 10MB.
- Only pdf, doc, docx, jpg, jpeg, png and gif file extension formats will be accepted.
- The judges' decision is final and no correspondence will be entertained.
