

Covid-19 hot spots in Japan

Coronavirus cases in Japan are spreading from major metropolitan hot spots to rural regions, amid fears that domestic travel during the summer holidays will spread the virus even further.

■ Worst-hit areas in Japan, including Okinawa and Aichi prefectures that have declared their own state of emergency

