

Road map for the future

A refreshed economic strategy is needed to keep Singapore growing. Here are three key areas of focus.

1

- Secure external economic linkages and grow physical and digital connectivity.
- Build a strong home base for innovation.

2

- Extensive and continual upskilling of workers.
- Bring in complementary foreign talent.
- Special attention to help vulnerable groups, such as lower-income workers.

3

- Resilience as a source of competitive advantage.
- Tap new opportunities from the green economy.
- Transform industries to build sustainable economy.
