

Efficacy of Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine after first dose

This graph shows the cumulative rate of Covid-19 infection among 36,523 participants in a phase three clinical trial conducted by pharmaceutical companies Pfizer and BioNTech. The results show that the vaccine has an effect about 12 days after a patient takes the first dose, which is the time the immune system needs to develop a response.

